

Andromeda Gave Us Higher Efficiency and Increased Cybersecurity

This manufacturer's growth is benefitted by the technical expertise of Andromeda.

This manufacturer of vanilla products is located in Boyceville, Wisconsin with global offices and facilities. They were looking for a company that could provide manage IT services.

They looked for a company that understood their needs and could provide the collaborations with expert feedback and solutions.

With the partnership, this manufacturer improved processes and works closely to achieve the highest level of security.

We have a solid professional relationship with the Andromeda team, and their technical expertise greatly benefits our growth.

Global IT Director
Vanilla Product Manufacturer, Boyceville, WI

They consistently stay on budget, and their quotations and prices never vary. They're also very organized, which makes them efficient

Global IT Director,
Vanilla Product
Manufacturer

The Challenge:

This manufacturer hired Andromeda Technology Solutions as an overall managed IT provider.

- They needed complete network security
- A partner who could help grow the company
- Optimize the operations and environment

The Action:

Andromeda Technology Solutions serves as this manufacturer's primary IT helpdesk, providing them with infrastructure support and managed IT services. Including:

- On-site support
- Server installation and maintenance
- Network maintenance & support
- Strategy expertise