BR Hodgson was established in Bristol in 1967. Initially, the company carried out plastering, screeding and drylining, predominantly in the South West of England. Subsequently, the business has grown to provide a range of key services to the commercial sector both in the UK and overseas.

They offer detailed design packages backed by their professional indemnity insurance and actively encourage early design involvement to bring value engineering and cost-saving to projects and avoid late and costly charges.

Defining the company needs and priorities

To support BR Hodgson's objectives, Netitude:

- Undertook a full audit of their current infrastructure. Having been with their last IT partner for 12 years, Netitude got to know the company before undertaking a full audit, so they could show BR Hodgson how they could best service the business and its goals.
- Explained how they work regarding regular audits, monitoring performance and strategic planning.

"We needed a company to deal with our day to day requirements and help us with our forward planning and business goals. Netitude ticked all the boxes when we decided to go with them. We were impressed with their proactive approach, specifically as it's not a service we had before."

Enabling Infrastructure

To increase security levels for BR Hodgson, Netitude had to:

- Implement effective and reliable disaster recovery and backup solution.

When Netitude initially audited the existing IT infrastructure, the team found that the backup solution was unreliable and did not cover business-critical data or devices.

Should the server suffer a hardware failure it would take around a week of company downtime before the data could be recovered to a working replacement server.

To remedy this situation, Netitude implemented a superior backup and recovery systems to provide an identical replacement server within 30 minutes in the event of a hardware failure on the primary server, keeping the business working within minutes rather than days.

- Secure, simplify, and optimise the Network:

Initially, the network infrastructure was untidy and overcomplicated, making it time-consuming to troubleshoot and manage. In addition, a firewall or UTM device was not present to protect the network and its users.

To improve this, Netitude designed and implemented a major network overhaul to ensure the network was protected to the required level.

"We found the process of working with Netitude very good, in fact, excellent.

They have done exactly what they promised; audited our IT infrastructure first and then pointed out the problems and created a plan to remedy it over time. All findings were discussed and explained to us through a truly collaborative approach and in layman terms.

They are experts in what they do but they took the time to work with us and fit with our business requirements and financial preference. We found the process very helpful as we knew from experience that a pro-active approach was what we needed."
